
What video player should I use to view my purchased video?

All of our videos are embedded on the web page. A stand-alone video player is not needed as the video will play directly on the page.