Motion to Pay Judgment in Installments

Moción Para Pagar Sentencia en Pagos Mensuales (p. 2)

Memorandum of Points and Authorities in Support of Motion to Pay in Installments

I. Background

On [February 16, 2025] this court entered a judgment against the Defendant, requiring him/her to pay to the opposing party $[5,430]. The moving party is requesting that the Court allow this judgment to be paid in monthly installments.

1 Date of judgment.
2 Amount of judgment.

II. LEGAL ARGUMENT

A. Pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure Section 582.5, the Court May Allow Any Judgment to be Paid in Installments

California Code of Civil Procedure §582.5 reads:

In a limited civil case in which the defendant has appeared, if the judgment or order is for the payment of money by the defendant, the defendant shall pay the judgment immediately or at any time and upon terms and conditions, including installment payments, that the court may prescribe. The court may amend the terms and conditions for payment of the judgment or order at any time to provide for installment payments for good cause upon motion by a party and notice to all affected parties, regardless of the nature of the underlying debt and regardless of whether the moving party appeared before entry of the judgment or order. In any determination regarding the imposition of terms and conditions upon the payment of the judgment, the court shall consider any factors that would be relevant to the determination of a claim for exemption pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 703.010) of Division 2 of Title 9 of part 2 or the examination of a debtor pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 708.110) of Chapter 6 of Division 2 of Title 9.

1 The Court May Order Judgment Paid in Installments Whether the
2 Judgment Was After Appearance or By Default

3 Although the court’s ability to modify a judgment to be paid in 4 installments is available in any “civil case in which the defendant has 5 appeared,” CCP § 582.5 explicitly states that upon noticed motion such relief
6 is available “regardless of the nature of the underlying debt and regardless
7 of whether the moving party appeared before entry of the judgment or 8 order,” (emphasis added). This statutory language unambiguously makes 9 available the ability to order installment payments after a default judgment.
10

11 A general appearance is “a voluntary appearance for any purpose
12 other than to question the jurisdiction of the court” (See Horney v. Superior
13 Court In and For Santa Clara County (1948) 83 Cal.App.2d 262). If this 14 motion seeks installments on a default judgment, the present motion to pay
15 in installments does not contest jurisdiction of the court and constitutes a 16 general appearance after entry of the judgment, a circumstance explicitly 17 anticipated by CCP § 582.5.
18

19 The Requirement of an Appearance is Intended to Protect the 20 Defendant and is Consistent with the Limits Placed on Default.

21 The requirement of an appearance before a judgment may be modified
22 to be paid in installments may seem odd, especially as modification after 23 default is clearly anticipated by the language of the statute, but the logic of 24 the statute is easily understood.
25

26 Although the legislative history is silent on the issue, CCP § 582.5 is 27 consistent with the statutes controlling limiting default judgments. Relief not

This limitation is rooted in the fundamental concept of fairness that a person must be notified of the judgment sought before a judgment may be entered. CCP § 582.5 is explicitly for a modification of the judgment. Ordering installment payments would fundamentally alter the nature of the judgment, and would be inconsistent with the limitation placed on default judgments in cases where the defendant has not appeared, as it seeks relief not stated in the Complaint. Specifically, an installment order potentially increases the liability of the defendant beyond what was stated in the Complaint. If the court finds that the judgment debtor has exhibited a continuing pattern of failing to make the payments as specified by the court in the order, the judgment debtor could be held in contempt of court and, in addition to the periodic payments, be ordered to pay the judgment creditor all damages caused by the failure to make the payments, including court costs and attorney's fees (CCP § 667.7(b)(2)). Once an appearance is made, even if it is after entry of judgment, the defendant accepts the risk of such additional penalty since in "a limited civil case in which the defendant has appeared, if the judgment or order is for the payment of money by the defendant, the defendant shall pay the judgment immediately or at any time and upon terms and conditions, including installment payments, that the court may prescribe."
